Final App Pitch

Name: Hacking Life

Why: So people can organize their thoughts by dates and receive quotes to get motivated, inspired, or cheered up

Who: for people who struggle with getting motivated or stay organized

What: An app that combines a calendar, daily notes, and quotes or reminders

How:

- Design: The app will open to a welcome screen that once clicked will lead to a calendar the user can scroll to get to the correct date. Once the date is clicked, it will lead to another screen with three buttons that once pressed will provide one of the following: a quote, an empty notes section, or a quick tip
- Features: feedback systems for the quotes/tips, push notifications
- Coding concepts: a class or struct will be needed to create the calendar (I will find more concepts as I research making a calendar in swift), buttons and segways to different screens
